Gary M. Sanderson works with new and established companies to navigate complex business transactions and disputes, including matters that involve real estate, creditors' rights/bankruptcy, construction and corporate transactions.

While growing up in Cambria County, Pennsylvania, Gary lived in a log cabin. He settled in Pittsburgh after graduating from the University of Pittsburgh. He now lives in the North Hills with his wife and four children. Prior to joining the firm, Gary studied abroad in Rome, Italy. While in law school, Gary served as both a law clerk at an immigration law firm and a Teaching Assistant for international attorneys learning about the American legal system. Gary is active in the Allegheny County Bar Association and other professional and non-profit organizations, including serving on the Board of Directors of Providence Connections, Inc., a local nonprofit serving the Northside communities through family support and early childhood education. In his spare time, Gary enjoys playing guitar, photography, kayaking, and running. He also has assisted with several of his children's youth sports groups including volunteering with Brad Mar Pine Baseball and service as an assistant soccer coach with the North Allegheny Soccer Club.
